

NAVISP Industry Days 2026

USEFUL INFORMATION

Accommodation

Rome is a popular tourist destination, especially in summer. While there are many accommodation options, we recommend booking early to secure the best rates.

NAVISP 2026 has established a partnership with a designated travel agency to offer participants preferential rates on a variety of accommodation options.

To book your accommodation, visit this website: <https://www.myfirst.travel/navisp>

Conference Venue

Aula Magna of Università La Sapienza, Rome, Italy.

Address: Piazzale Aldo Moro, 5

Subway stops near the venue:

- Policlinico, line B (1,1 km)
- Castro Pretorio, line B (950 m)
- Termini, line A, B (1,3 km)

Local Transportation

The city has an extensive network of buses, trams, and three metro lines (A, B, and C). Tickets cost €1.50 and are valid for 90 minutes across all modes of transport (bus, tram, metro, and city trains). You can buy tickets at metro stations, tobacco shops ("tabaccaio"), and newsstands, or simply tap your contactless credit card on board or at the metro gate.

Bonus tip: download the Moovit or Roma Mobilità app to check real-time arrival times for buses and metro trains.

Bus and subway

Rome has 3 subway lines (A–B–C) and several bus routes covering almost all parts of Rome and its suburbs. A single ticket costs 1,50 € and it is valid 100 minutes after validation.

Tourist Card

You can easily get around Rome and visit its fantastic attractions by bus, by subway ("Metropolitana"), by taxi and on foot. If you plan to stay for 3 days or more, we suggest you buy "Roma Pass" tourist card.

For any further information, please visit: www.romapass.it

Taxi

Taxis licensed by Rome City Council are white and bear the sign "TAXI" on their roofs. The symbol of Rome City Council is also clearly visible on the vehicle's front doors and the license number is shown inside the car on the back left door.